

Pastor Gives Long Recital Of Espionage And Treason

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Rev. Vassil Georgiev Zlapkov, main defendant in the treason trial of 15 Protestant churchmen, pleaded guilty in court today to charges of treason and espionage. He was the third defendant to plead guilty in two days.

Zlapkov, 48-year-old Congregational Church pastor, was religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches, made up of several Protestant denominations in Bulgaria.

The government accused him of being the principal conspirator with a number of high British and American figures and political representatives. Charges of black market money dealings also were placed against all the defendants.

7-Hour Confession
Zlapkov was preceded to the stand by the Rev. Yanko Ivanov, Methodist church head. Ivanov, the second defendant to testify, denounced himself for seven hours and ended by declaring he had seen the light and no longer feared Communism.

The first was Nikola Naumov, Baptist Church head, who testified yesterday at the opening of the trial. Small, bald and crippled, the 48-year-old Ivanov began his testimony yesterday and continued it today in a calm, detailed recital before the three-man Sofia district court of years of spying for the British and Americans.

His demeanor was in contrast to that of Naumov who wept several times during his confession that was climaxed with the statement that "the time of Communism has come, a new world is being created."

Accuses Wealthy

Naumov said the Bulgarian churches must get rid of their British-American contacts because

HOSPITAL HERE TURNED IN LOW 'PATIENT - COST' RECORD IN 1948

Adams county's Warner hospital turned in the lowest cost per Blue Cross patient among hospitals of its class in 1948, directors of the hospital were informed at their February meeting held Friday evening.

In the group of non-interne hospitals, in which the local hospital is classified, the 245 Blue Cross cases served in the Adams county institution in 1948 averaged $55.35 per case.

Walter R. Doud, hospital administrator, informed the board that only eight per cent of the cases admitted to the local hospital carry Blue Cross hospitalization insurance.

Offer Community Plan

He also announced that the Blue Cross is prepared to offer individual contracts on a community basis to the municipalities of Adams county and their respective rural routes if sponsoring organizations can be found.

Under this plan, Mr. Doud explained, individuals may contract for Blue Cross hospitalization for themselves or their families and may pay the premiums through banks to be designated by the Blue Cross. The principal stipulation is that 40 per cent of the population of the municipality enroll in the plan. Sponsoring organizations must be found to conduct the registrations and to urge participation so that the required proportion of enrollments can be secured in order to put the service into effect.

Mr. Doud was directed to investigate the possibilities of the program and to ascertain what interest prevailed among service organizations in regard to sponsorship.

January Busy Month

The hospital had a busy month in January with an average of 75 patients per day and an average of 86 per cent occupancy. Births totaled 56, there being 29 male and 27 female babies born during the month.

Despite the busy month cash receipts of $19,576.98 were $546.16 short of meeting the expenditures of the month of $20,123.73. Earned income for January totaled $24,271.92, while operating expenses were $20,932.07, reflecting an operating surplus of $3,339.85.

FINED $50 ON CODE CHARGE

A McSherrytown man has been fined $50 and costs by Justice of the Peace George Baker, Abbotstown on a charge of displaying an operator's license not issued to him. State police said George D. Reese exhibited an operator's license issued to a cousin, representing it as his own, when he was stopped by an officer.

A charge of making an improper pass at the crest of a grade filed by state police of the Gettysburg substation against Marble C. Gay, Jr., of Tunkhannock, Pa., has been discharged by Justice of the Peace George Brandt, of Dillsburg.

Gay was killed in an automobile accident on February 15, four days after being stopped by Cpl. Jack Bartlett of the Gettysburg substation at Dillsburg for the improper pass. The charge was filed with Squire Brandt who mailed a 10-day notice to Gay. News of Gay's death was contained in a letter to Brandt from Gay's brother, Charles.

Amputate Finger Of Howard Eckert

The left ring finger of Howard Eckert, 55, Gettysburg R. 4, was amputated at the Warner hospital Friday after he was injured while working as a mason.

Admissions included Mrs. Hilda Black, Aspers R. 1; Mrs. Roy H. Black, Biglerville R. 1; Susan Y. Spangler, Taneytown, and Irwin Wood, 71 East Stevens street. Those discharged were Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Melvin Weidhaugh and infant daughter, Shirley Ann, Littlestown; Annie Bolen, Gettysburg R. 4; John S. Bucher, Littlestown; Mrs. Ronald Derr, McKnightstown; Daniel Sanders, Gettysburg R. 2, and Mrs. David E. Flynn, Gettysburg R. 5.

Early Residents Of Gettysburg Recall Thanksgiving Day Parade Held Here November 28, 1901

A number of local residents will remember the occasion when the above photograph was taken, November 28, 1901, in the Gettysburg National cemetery. It pictures the Grand Army band of Gettysburg, at that time rated one of the best marching bands in this section of the state.

CARS CRASH IN NEW OXFORD

An automobile operated by J. E. Kennedy, 42, York, and one driven by Donald J. Howe, 27, Gettysburg R. 4, collided at 6:12 a. m. today on Lincolnway East, New Oxford, in front of the Aero Oil company.

The left fronts of the two cars crashed according to Chief of Police Anthony Maaske of New Oxford, who investigated the accident. Maaske said that Howe then lost control of his car, which went into the ditch and continued for 265 feet before it turned over.

Only person injured was William Burgh, 56, of York, who suffered slight lacerations of the knees. Maaske said. Damage to Kennedy's car, a 1931 Chevrolet coach, was estimated at $300. Damage to Howe's car, a 1941 Mercury, was placed at $1,000.

New Oxford Lions Plan Heart Benefit

The New Oxford Lions club will hold a bingo party Monday evening for the benefit of the American Heart Association's National fund to fight heart diseases.

Hams, chickens, and groceries will be among the prizes offered at the affair to be held at 8 o'clock Monday night on the second floor of Livingston building in New Oxford. The party is one of a number of activities by various service clubs in the county to raise funds for the national heart fund. The various Lions and Rotary clubs in the county are seeking to raise $2,000 as the county's share of a $5,000,000 goal.

LODGED IN JAIL

John Hoffman, Gettysburg, was arrested at 1:20 p. m. Friday afternoon on a disorderly conduct charge, on Baltimore street, and lodged in the Adams county jail for a hearing later today before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

An Appeal For The Red Cross

"All around the globe the American Red Cross has a good name. It has ministered to such a multitude of needs and expressed the kindly generosity of Americans in such varied emergencies that it stands out like a shining beacon of love and mercy in a sad and troubled world. All of us Americans should be proud of our Red Cross. It never fails in time of sudden need and great disaster. In your name and mine it steps in always and helps. The only limit to the ministry of mercy that is exercised by the American Red Cross is the limit that Americans place upon the funds they contribute to it. Let us give generously."

RED CROSS TO PLACE DISPLAYS DURING DRIVE

The work of the Adams county Red Cross will be on display in picture and printed word through a series of window exhibits to be placed throughout the town for the one-week campaign for funds, opening Sunday.

Philip M. Jones and Richard E. Dreas, co-chairmen for the forthcoming Red Cross drive for $11,185, said today that seven displays are scheduled to be placed in Gettysburg under arrangements made by a committee headed by Walter Lane, local photographer.

The exhibits will be located in windows at Britcher and Bender drug store; the Shoe Box; Dougherty and Hartley's store; Philip Bikle Insurance agency office; Rea and Derick store and the Lane Studios. A display will also be placed in the lobby of the Hotel Gettysburg.

Unusual Exhibit
An unusual exhibit will be that placed in the hotel lobby, Chairman Lane said today. In the display will be a scrap book made by students of a school in Romania and sent to the Junior Red Cross chapter at Gettysburg high school. A similar scrap book is being made by the school students here to send to the Romanian Junior Red Cross. The scrap book will be opened on the table in the lobby and everyone will have the opportunity to "browse" through it.

The window displays will show such things as war activities of the Red Cross; a gift box filled by Adams county Junior Red Cross members for shipment to youngsters overseas and similar examples of Red Cross activities.

Work on the windows began Friday night and all of the displays will be placed by Tuesday, Lane said.

Here And There News Collected At Random

"For heavens sakes when is something going to be done about the persistency of dog dirt all over our sidewalks?" wails a local woman resident, and justifiably so. Another complained: "If human beings acted on our main streets as some dog owners permit their dogs to do they would be arrested. Still another cries forth: "Why in the name of common decency and cleanliness do our borough authorities allow dog owners to use our main streets as open comfort stations? It is a disgrace to our town and an insult to the intelligence and decency of our citizens."

The above are only a few of the hundreds of complaints we have received through the mail, by telephone and personal appeal over a long period. Some of the letters we passed on to borough officials. Others, unsigned, we discarded. However, in fairness to all, dog owners should make every effort to leash their dogs into an alley when on their daily strolls. It isn't very pleasant, especially for a woman, to be compelled to dodge these offensive sidewalk obstacles. A little consideration will go a long way toward cleaning up this town. TWO CARS COLLIDE

Automobiles of Elwood M. Miller, Gettysburg R. 4, and V. L. Noble, Shippensburg, collided at 12:40 p. m. Friday on York street, according to a borough police report. Police said Miller was traveling east, and Roxbury pulled out from the curb. Damage to Miller's car was estimated at $35. There was no damage to Roxbury's automobile, police said.

BLAZE RAZES BARN ON FARM OF R. L. NEWLON

Fire discovered at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon completely destroyed a 30 by 60 foot bank barn on the farm of Richard L. Newlon, metal toy manufacturer, a mile and a half east of Fairfield and a half mile south of the Gettysburg-Fairfield road. The place is known as the old Dwight McCann farm.

Origin of the fire is undetermined. Considerable delay was experienced before the first fire company reached the scene. Mr. Newlon has no telephone, and had difficulty in starting his automobile to drive to the nearest phone and send in the alarm, he told firemen.

Misdirected Alarm

Fairfield's pumper was undergoing repairs and unable to answer the call. Fairfield firemen put through a call to Fountaineale for assistance. Calls to Fountaineale go through the Blue Ridge Summit exchange, and the latter community's firemen got the call instead of Fountaineale, at 6 o'clock. Fountaineale received the message later and also responded.

Fairfield firemen responded in their own automobiles, and with their small chemical truck, which was used later in putting out the burning debris. There was no water, except that in a well, which was quickly exhausted, and the tanks on (Please Turn to Page 2)

WATERCRESS, PUSSYWILLOWS ON MART HERE

Signs of spring were evident on the Farmers market this morning, with the first pussywillows and the first watercress of the season offered for sale. Pussywillows sold for 25 cents a bunch. The watercress was 15 cents for a heaping quart box.

Prices of other items remained unchanged and the market experienced another dull session. Pork and poultry were plentiful, with pork prices as follows:

Loin, 90 cents a pound; roast cents a pound; smoked sausage, 65 cents a pound; smoked sausage, 65 cents a pound; neck roast, 50 cents a pound; shoulder roast, 60 cents a pound; backbone, 45 cents a pound; ribs, 45 cents a pound; liver, 50 cents a pound; side-meat, 45 cents a pound; pigstee, 15 cents.

Other Offerings

Lard sold today for 20 cents a pound and butter was 60 cents a pound.

Dressed chickens were unchanged, at 65 cents a pound for roasters and 70 cents a pound for fryers and capons. Ducks were 65 cents a pound. Eggs were 50 cents a dozen.

Other market offerings included potatoes at $2.50 a bushel; apples at $3.50 to $4 a bushel; turnips and parsnips at ten cents a quart box; cream, 35 cents a pint; cottage cheese, 20 cents a pint; potato salad, 20 cents a pint; pies 40 and 45 cents; cookies, 25 cents a dozen.

WARNS AGAINST FALSE CLAIMS ON JOBLESS PAY

E. A. Crouse, manager of the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service office today issued a warning to all persons seeking to obtain unemployment compensation on the veterans' readjustment allowance that it does not pay to attempt to secure the benefits by false claims.

Crouse said the warning was made at this time because Friday a person seeking to secure unemployment benefits was found to be making false statements concerning income and that investigation is being made in several other cases currently.

Observes Her 96th Birthday

Mrs. Mary Brough, York Springs R. 1, is quietly observing her 96th birthday anniversary today. She resides with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brough.

Mrs. Brough, who is one of nine children of the late Stephen and Barbara (Guise) Weidner, is able to be about her home and do light housework. A brother, H. W. Weidner, Seminary avenue, observed his 81st birthday anniversary February 18.

LITTLESTOWN LEGION TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY
BANQUET MAR. 15

Plans were completed for the 30th anniversary banquet of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, American Legion, at the semi-monthly meeting of the post, held Thursday evening in the post home, East King street. The banquet will be held at Base-hor's restaurant, North Queen street, on Thursday, March 15, at 7 p. m., when a turkey dinner will be served.

The Ladies' Auxiliary will present the post with new post colors as their birthday gift. "Mike" Markowitz, Philadelphia, national field representative, of the Legion will be the speaker. Skating and dancing will be enjoyed to the music of Dick Geisler's orchestra. Reply cards must be in the hands of the committee by Saturday, March 5. The party is for all members of the Legion, the Ladies' Auxiliary and their guests. Tickets may be secured from the committee which consists of James Fager and Ralph Ruggles, Jr., or at Zerling's hardware store. The post voted a contribution of $5 to the Red Cross. Commander Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., presided over the meeting. The next meeting will be held Thursday, March 10.

39 On Honor Roll
Thirty-nine students are listed on the honor roll for the second semester of the Littlestown Junior-Senior high school according to an announcement made by the school authorities on Friday. Of this number, 22 students are on the first honor roll and 17 are on the second honor roll. To achieve first honors, a student must have a majority of A's and no grade less than a B. Requirements for the second honor roll are at least one A and no grade lower than a B.

Named on the first honor roll are: Albert Stock, senior; Evelyn Harget, Earl Humbert, Gloria Warner and Richard E. Wolfe, juniors; Doris Good, Doris Hess, and Helen Rebert, sophomores; Ferree LeFevre, Myrtle Good, Mary Flickinger and Brenda Hess, freshmen; Jean Bish, Phyllis Dickinson, Laura Stock, Shirley Stonessifer and Jo Ann Dehoff, eighth graders; and Jean Blocher, Dixie Nester, Dean Sell, Barbara Wiltman and Betty White, seventh graders.

Appearing on the second honor roll are: Jean Bowers, Joann Wehler and Richard S. Wolfe, seniors; Marie Flickinger, junior; Eleanor Bankert, Lois Cluck and Lewis Motter, sophomores; Penny Nester, Evelyn Dickinson, freshmen; Jean Bible, Jean Miller, Lou Etta Miller, Joan Shull, Diane Stambaugh and Louise Bucher, eighth graders; and Jean Hess and Larry Feeser, seventh graders.

Class Hats Arrive
Sophomore class hats have arrived at the local high school. They are made of green and gold material, their class colors, and are crew hats with L. H. S. '51. The band is in gold and the other part is green. A majority of the members of the members of the class have purchased these hats.

Approximately 500 members of Littlestown Aerle No. 2226, Fraternal Order of Eagles, attended the Shrimp feed which was held at the lodge home, West King street, on Friday night.

A Passionist priest, the Rev. Cornelius McArdle, who is vice rector of St. Paul's Monastery, Pittsburgh, and a former chaplain in the United States Army, will conduct a mission in St. Aloysius Catholic church from Sunday, March 6, to Sunday, March 13, inclusive.

Local Firemen Respond
The Gettysburg fire department was called at 7:30 o'clock when the wind began to rise and showers of sparks threatened to set fire to the house and other farm buildings, and responded with two pumps and the service truck. They remained at the scene for more than an hour. Fairfield firemen worked on the ruins with two 40-gallon soda and ash extinguishers and Indian pumps until 11 o'clock.

Loss was estimated by Roger Myers, Fairfield fire chief, at $2,500, covered, he said, by insurance. The barn had been empty for several years, he said. There was no stock or tools in it.

It was the 160th day for the Fairfield fire company without a fire until this call was received. The pump on the larger of the two Fairfield trucks had been sent to the factory in Conshohocken, Pa. for repairs, and had just been received Friday. It's installation in the fire truck had not been completed. Chief Myers said he expected the pump would be in commission today.

Birth Announcements
Word has been received of the birth of a son, John Sheely, Jr., to Captain and Mrs. John S. Linn, Scott Field Air Force Base, Illinois. The Linn formerly resided in Cash-town.

WARNS AGAINST

drawing either unemployment compensation or veterans' payments, it is possible that others may be attempting to defraud the state or federal government through false statements on the applications for aid, Crouse said. He added that "most people are honest, and are entitled to the benefits and receive them; but it has been our experience that about three per cent of those seeking unemployment compensation or the veterans' compensation do so fraudulently. We wish to warn them now that in the end all fraudulent claims are uncovered. This usually leads to prosecution and always leads to the recipient refunding the money secured through the false statements."

Crouse added that employers who may seek to "cover-up for employees" by signing false statements regarding their occupation and income are also subject to prosecution under the law regarding fraudulent statements, which carried penalties of a fine or imprisonment. All persons seeking unemployment compensation must give details of how much they make per week, if they have any income at all, Crouse pointed out.

School Staff And Choir To Be Guests

Members of the senior choir of the Presbyterian church and the officers and teachers of the church school will be guests at a supper being arranged by the Women's Service guild of the church for Tuesday evening, March 8, at 6:30 o'clock in the social rooms of the church.

Agent Sends Cherry Spray Information

Source cherry spray letter number one was sent out today by County Agent M. T. Hartman in consultation with J. O. Pepper and R. S. Kirby of the State College extension staff.

The spray, to control black cherry aphid and scale calls for use of either three pints of DN liquid or 1½ pounds DN powder per 100 gallons of water. It is to be applied before any green shows in flower buds. Hartman pointed out that black cherry aphid was "a real problem in both non-bearing and bearing cherry orchards last year."

Charles Meckley, Hanover R. D., told how he started with one potato and raised 57 pounds of potatoes from that spud; then replanted and got 52 bushels; replanted 17 of those bushels and got 580 bushels.

Report Big Harvests

Paul Lerew, York Springs, told of how he and his father secured two and one-third tons of peas to an acre. To get quality and yield they had to "do two weeks cutting in four or five days, by working day and night" Lerew pointed out, adding that "peas are good only one day. If they are picked before that day you lose weight; if they are picked after that day you lose quality."

Ira N. Dummire, assistant county farm agent, gave details of how Irvin Spangler, Aspers, raised over 33 tons of tomatoes per acre.

Francis Murren, Hanover R. 4, outlining the activities of 4-H clubs, urged farmers to "teach your children to be farmers. It is the greatest life a man can live."

L. T. Goodling, president of the Pennsylvania Rabbit Breeders Cooperative, gave details of the plant he cooperative is constructing at McKnightstown. Contracts are now being made with farmers and other rabbit breeders throughout the state to secure rabbits for the plant starting September 1, he said.

Present Pageant

County dairymen should have many good years ahead, Paul Edinger, assistant director, State College, indicated during a short talk. There has been an increase in per capita consumption of milk, he said, and in addition there has been a large increase in the population with a bumper crop of youngsters who will be large milk consumers for many years.

P. F. Bailey, Mannheim, assistant superintendent of the Lancaster county schools, spoke on "A Little Man Looks at the News." During his talk Bailey urged that the nation "reduce its expenditures for the military and spend at least part of the appropriation on education."

The meeting closed with a 4-H club pageant entitled, "A Better Life, Our Ideal." Those taking part were: Jane Witherow, who portrayed "Liberty," and Mrs. Warren J. Martin, who represented parents, and Dorothy Spence, Joyce Waybright, Mary Martin, Dorothy Waybright, Helen Martin, Regina Kane, Creta Epley, Diana Baird, Larry Crouse, Ned Crouse, Richard Weaver, Bernard Martin, Roy Weaver, Jr., and Teddy Crouse.

TRAIN WRECKED

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 26 (AP)—The locomotive and four mail cars of the Frisco railroad's Will Rogers passenger train were derailed and three crewmen were injured early today. Frank Fulton, 60, of Newburg, engineer, was the most seriously injured. Fulton, a mail clerk and another crewman were brought to a hospital here.

ing balance of $3,339.85. This reduced the deficit for the first eight months of the present fiscal year to $5,336.86.

"The favorable results achieved in January will not offset the seasonal decline in occupancy in the warm months and an operating deficit for the year of about $14,000 must still be anticipated," President C. A. Bixler warned the directors.

Trying To Collect Overdue Bills

Accounts receivable continue to plague the hospital, the financial report indicated. Of the $29,000 due the hospital from patients, $9,000 represents charity accounts, a part of which will be paid through the state appropriation, while an equal sum represents insurance, compensation and hospitalization claims that are in the process of settlement. Accounts receivable not yet due total nearly $6,000 while the balance of $5,000 are accounts that are overdue and which the hospital has made efforts to collect.

The overdue accounts are to be placed in the hands of a hospital collecting agency, according to a resolution adopted by the directors. The agency will be retained permanently and all overdue accounts will be turned over to it for action automatically when they become delinquent.

In a letter from the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, following an inspection of the hospital on February 2, the hospital was praised for the installation of much new important equipment during the year.

Auxiliary Lauded

"The Women's Auxiliary is apparently a very fine and active organization and you are fortunate in having such assistance," the letter stated.

The welfare department's criticism over occasional failure of physicians to sign hospital orders and telephone orders was ordered by the board to be brought to the attention of the medical staff with the request that these occasional delinquencies be remedied.

Several directors expressed concern over the tendency to hold the hospital responsible for failure to secure physicians on the medical call service recently established by the Adams County Medical society.

No Hope On State Aid

In this connection, it was emphasized that the hospital is merely a clearing house for these calls and that it is not maintaining medical service. The board directed the administrator to work out a plan with the county medical society to arrange to cover this call service if it is to be continued with the hospital as the call center.

The board was informed that it could look for little relief in its financial problems by way of state appropriation. The governor's budget increased hospital-aid appropriations only a little over $100,000 for the next biennium which will result in an increase to the local hospital of only a fraction of what it asked.

A committee of directors will meet with similar committees of hospital directors in the Cumberland Valley and southern Pennsylvania area in the near future, pursuant to an invitation from Major General M. C. Stayer, president of the Carlisle hospital.

General Stayer contemplates the organization of an informal round table of representatives of hospital boards "to meet a few times a year and learn from each other means of bettering their respective institutions." It is planned that these meetings will be held in different hospitals and shall be so timed that the visiting group can be guests at a board meeting.

On recommendation of the medical staff Dr. James H. Allison, a native of New Oxford and a graduate of Gettysburg college and the University of Pennsylvania Medical school and now practicing in Emmitsburg, was elected to staff membership.

Also on the recommendation of the medical staff the following dentists were elected to membership on the hospital staff: Drs. Karl S. Hoffmeister, Joseph R. Riden and Richard M. Phreaner, all of Littlestown; Dr. Waybright Thomas, of Biglerville, and Drs. Granville R. Schultz, Fred B. Bryson, Ralph D. Wickerham and Joseph H. Riley, all of Gettysburg.

Tribute To Charles Smith

A resolution of tribute to the late Charles H. Smith, a founder of the hospital and a director since its organization nearly 30 years ago, was adopted by the board and ordered to be incorporated in the minutes of the meeting and a copy sent to his family.

President Bixler, New Oxford, presided over the meeting which was attended by the following directors: Guy Stock, Bendersville; C. P. Keefe, New Oxford; John Brown, Fairfield; William Sneeringer, Littlestown; John Hauser, Biglerville; Edgar McDannel, Arendtsville; H. Harold Miller, Carl Baum, William Durbow, Edmund W. Thomas, Franklin R. Bigham, Dr. Frank H. Kramer, Philip M. Jones and Henry M. Scharf, all of Gettysburg.

BANKER DIES

Tower City, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—William F. Knecht, president of Tower City National bank, is dead at 83. A native of Pottsville, Knecht died yesterday at his home. He founded the Tower City Weekly Herald in 1898 and published the newspaper until 1922 when he turned it over to his son, William. His widow, Alice, and six children survive. The funeral will be Monday.

Pastor Gives

American millionaires stand behind the Methodist Church and "behind the Baptist Church stands Rockefeller."

Like Naumov, Ivanov said the Bulgarian state security police treated him well and no pressure had been placed on him to confess. He added: "I am not pleading for mercy. I cannot find any extenuating circumstances."

Ivanov said he collected information through church channels from various pastors and delivered it to Mellony Turner, former principal of the American Methodist-sponsored Lovech school for girls in Sofia.

He said the information was to aid in waging a fight against Communism and Bulgaria's Communist regime.

He said he had reported that "economic life is almost stagnant" in Bulgaria, and that he had sent information on the movements of Russian troops, facts on Russian families in Bulgaria and industrial information, such as the capacity of factories.

He resumed his testimony today after spending three hours on the stand yesterday. In the first five and a half hours of his story he had progressed to the events of the winter of 1946.

It was not until September, 1947, that Bulgaria was on her own, free of control from the allied commission of Britain, France, the United States and Russia which ruled from the time of Bulgaria's surrender in 1944 until the Bulgarian peace treaty took effect.

(The duties of the Control Commission were to see that Bulgaria was carrying out the military and other phases of the armistice.) His recital stuck closely to the 177-page confession which the government said he gave in a preliminary examination conducted by judicial investigators.

In addition to Turner, Ivanov mentioned three other Americans with whom he said he had dealt. They were Robert Strong, Robert Tobias and Reuben H. Markham.

Waives Hearing On Lottery Charge

Camden Cobern, 54, Buffalo township, Perry county, alleged head of a lottery racket which is said to have placed a number of "fish bowl" lotteries in Gettysburg last month, waived a hearing on a charge of "traffic in lottery tickets" and through his attorney entered a plea of not guilty Friday before Alderman Joseph K. Armstrong, Harrisburg. He was held for March court in Dauphin county under $500 bail. At the same time, Clifton W. Albert, Halifax, R. 3, pleaded guilty to a charge of "setting up and maintaining gambling devices." He was also released under $500 bail for court. Albert was charged with being one of Cobern's salesmen who placed the lottery tickets in 18 central Pennsylvania counties. The investigation was conducted and arrests made by state policemen, headed by Joseph L. Pochyba, formerly in charge of the Gettysburg substation.

The Mother Seton Junior guild of St. Joseph's high school presented a program on Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium. The program consisted of the singing of "Hail, Holy Queen, Enthroned Above," by the student body; a resume by George Greco; radio skit; an interview with Mother Seton by Mary Louise Jordan. Taking part in the skit were George Greco as St. Thomas Aquinas; James Eckert as St. Peter and Patricia Fitzgerald as Mother Seton. As a closing number the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the student body.

The February meeting of the Women's Missionary society of Elias Lutheran church was held at the home of Miss Grace Rowe on Tuesday evening. The roll call was made by the secretary, Mrs. McCleaf, and 17 members answered. Mrs. McCleaf also read the minutes of the previous meeting. The leaders were: M. F. Shuff, Sr., J. William Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Lumen Norris and daughters, Monica and Rebecca, and M. F. Shuff, 3rd, of Yakoma, Wash.

Warriors Drop Last Tilt To Delone Quintet 47-41

Gettysburg high rang down the curtain on its basketball season Friday evening by absorbing a 47-41 defeat at the hands of Delone Catholic high at McSherrystown for its ninth reverse against 11 triumphs.

The Warriors sputtered in the third quarter to take a 31-30 lead but Delone tied the count in the first minute of play in the final period and went on to gain its second win over the locals this season.

The Squires got off to a 9-4 lead in the first stanza on goals by Staub, Murren and Kuhn and a goal and foul by Gebhart. Meanwhile Gettysburg scored on a goal by Bushman and free tosses by Donaldson and Eisenhart.

Three goals by Westerdaal and a pair by Eisenhart in the second quarter shaved Delone's margin to 19-15 at half time.

Warriors Go Ahead
Coach Forney's lads flashed their best form in the third period and took the lead. Donaldson and Hankey were the spear-heads of the Warrior assault, Donaldson contributing a goal and five fouls while Hankey contributed a trio of goals.

Delone was limited to a pair of twin-points by Staub and a single by Gebhart but picked up four points on charity tosses.

After falling behind 31-30 Delone quickly knotted the count early in the last period and, sparked by the goal tossing of Gebhart and Murren, each of whom sank three shots from the field, assumed the lead to win going away.

Reserves Lose
In a nip and tuck battle all the way the Delone reserves edged Howard Shoemaker's cagers in the opener 29-27. The teams were deadlocked 20-20 going into the final frame. The setback marked the 11th against eight wins for Gettysburg.

Delone, now boasting a 14-6 record, is host to York Catholic in an important Central Pennsylvania Catholic league tilt on Sunday.

Y.S. LOSES TO STEWARTSTOWN

The York Springs high boys' basketball team bowed to Stewartstown Friday evening at York Springs, 49-41.

Stewartstown jumped off to a 10-6 lead in the first period and held a slight advantage the remainder of the game. D. Guise, York Springs, topped the scorers with a total of 23 points. Dick Hall, Stewartstown, connected for 21.

The York Springs girls won the preliminary game, 42-20.

JR. HI QUINTET BOWS IN FINAL

Gettysburg junior high found its opponents' height too much to overcome and lost to Hanover here Friday evening 32-26 in bringing its season to an end.

Coach Herr's regulars played one of their best games and gave their foes stiff competition the whole way.

The loss gave the locals a record of five wins and seven defeats for the campaign.

The Jayvees, whose only loss was at Hanover by a 29-17 score, gained sweet revenge by taking the opening tilt after a hard fought contest 15-12. Coach Herr's team played fine defensive ball and made the most of its chances to score against much taller opposition. The win was the seventh against one defeat for Gettysburg.

THUNDERBOLTS CRUSH QUINCY

Clay Evans Littlestown high cagers brought their season to an end Friday evening by crushing the Quincy Orphanage dribblers at Littlestown 71-43.

The victory marked the seventh against six defeats for the Thunderbolts.

Sentz and P. Gerrick netted 25 and 2 points, respectively, for the victors.

15 Entered For Rich Santa Anita Handicap

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 26 (P)—The $100,000 Santa Anita handicap dominates the turf picture today, and uncertainty is the theme of pre-race predictions.

Fifteen thoroughbreds, ranging from the favored, four-year-old dinger going to highly regarded, eight-year-old autocraft, are named for the 12th running of the mile and one quarter fixture.

The management made arrangements to handle a crowd of more than 60,000 fans—ranging from $2 bettor with a patch on his pants to eastern socialites and a generous gathering of the mink and sports coat set from Hollywood.

After 1750 the Windsor or Philadelphia chair was made generally throughout Massachusetts.

Opposes Diplomats

Russ Riegel, 155, undefeated Gettysburg college grappler in dual competition, who will attempt to continue his string of victories tonight when the Bullet matmen meet the powerful Franklin and Marshall grapplers in the local gym.

At 7 o'clock the jayvee teams will clash.

BATTLES LOOM FOR IC4A MEET

New York, Feb. 26 (P)—A double feature at one mile, a wide open scrap for team honors and a half a dozen potential records promise the customers plenty of excitement tonight in the 28th Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. indoor track and field championships at Madison Square Garden.

In addition to the 13-event varsity program for athletes from a record field of 46 colleges, a special invitation mile race will bring all the currently available European foot-racers to the same starting line for the first time.

The added attraction is the Louis Zamperini mile, always a high spot of the IC4A meet although it has no place in the scoring.

This time it brings together Willy Silykuis of Holland, Marcel Hansenne of France and the swift Swedes, Ingvar Bengtsson and Erik Ahliden, who have been outstepping this country's best homebred talent at distances from 1,000 yards to three miles.

Curt Stone of the Shanahan Catholic club at Philadelphia, Fred Wilt of the New York Athletic club and John Twomey of Chicago's Illinois Athletic club complete the Zamperini field.

High School Seniors To Play Knicks "5"

The 49ers, a basketball team composed of the seven senior members of this year's Gettysburg high squad, will meet the Knicks, a local independent basketball team, on the high school floor Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The public is invited to the game for which there is no charge.

Included in the 49ers lineup will be Guy Donaldson, Bill Bushman, Bruce Westerdaal, Doug Knox, Bill Eisenhart, Dick Deane and Harold Hankey.

TURMOIL MARS VALLEY MATCH

Harlingen, Tex., Feb. 26 (P)—Glenn Teal, a comparative youngster along golf's tournament trail, led the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open into its third round today but he had to share the spotlight with the games newest flare-up.

The 29-year-old Teal, playing out of Jacksonville, Fla., on his third tour, topped 66 other shot-makers moving into the final 36 holes of the tournament with a 36-hole total of 131, a one-stroke margin over the field.

George Schneider, manager of the PGA tournament bureau, prepared a report to the PGA's executive committee that may result in disciplinary action against veteran professional Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va.

The charge is that Metz gave inaccurate information to a sports writer who wrote a column in which he said dissensions raged within the ranks of golf and between golf and the tournament sponsors.

Metz checked out of his hotel yesterday afternoon and apparently departed for his home. He had shot 143 for the first 36 holes of the tournament and would have had little chance at the money in the final 36 scheduled today and tomorrow.

Behind him was Turmoil that almost equalled that here last year when the pros wrangled over the rules and Henry Ransom, American pro, and Norman Von Nida of Australia came to blows on the course.

SWIMMERS CITED

Springfield, Mass., Feb. 26 (P)—Ben Smith, 23, Hazleton, Pa., is one of four members of the Springfield college swimming team cited for their attempt to rescue two six-year-old boys from drowning. One of the boys, John Morris, was saved. The other, Donald Clark, drowned before he could be reached. The boys fell through thin ice on Lake Massasoit near the college.

S.P. BASEBALL LOOP TO HAVE TWELVE TEAMS

The South Penn Baseball league was expanded to 12 teams for the coming season at a meeting held Friday evening at the American Legion home here. Forty persons attended the meeting.

Green Springs, Hunterstown and Bendersville became new members of the loop with the Gettysburg News Agency dropping from the circuit. Other members of the league include Conewago VFW, Cashtown, Wrenksville, Heidersburg, Barlow, Greenmount, Brushtown, Granite and Bonneauville.

Glenn A. Bream, Arendtsville, was re-elected as president of the league. Robert Thompson, Jr., York Springs, was chosen as vice president, and George Weaver, Heidersburg, secretary-treasurer.

The board of arbitration of the league will be comprised of E. D. Bushman, Arendtsville; the Rev. Frank Reynolds, Littlestown; and Robert Harpster, Gettysburg.

One major change was made in the league rules which permits any player in the league moving up to higher baseball to return to league play. The ruling affects players who were included on 1948 rosters.

Another meeting of the circuit will be held Tuesday evening, March 8, at the Legion home.

Sport Shorts

New York, Feb. 26 (P)—Bill Veech of the Cleveland Indians says his Negro centerfielder, Larry Doby, reminds him more of Joe DiMaggio than any other player and predicts he'll be right in Joe's class within a year or two. Sixteen of this year's American league rookies call California home. Pennsylvania is second high with 12. New York third with nine. The Boston Braves expect to look over 400 members of their farm system at their farm camp at Myrtle Beach, S. C. Dick Chapman, who won the amateur golf crown back in 1940, says he has "discovered" a new swing which adds 30 yards to his tee shots.

Tony Zale told a Nashville audience that he fully expects to knock out Marcel Cerdan in their return middleweight title bout, which appears now to be headed for Chicago. Tony will be 35 in May. Ray Arcel, the famous trainer, says the greatest nightmare he ever experienced was taking 39 pounds off Charlie Phil Rosenberg for a bantamweight title fight in 1925. He didn't let Rosenberg drink a drop of liquid the last two days.

Some of the fight critics are taking mild issue with Nat Fleischer for dropping the term "technical knockout" from his 1949 issue of Ring Record Book. It is possible now, they point out, for a fighter to be officially credited with a knockout in Fleischer's tome, though he did not strike a blow. Such an incident occurred at Syracuse last August when Howard Chard was seized with a coughing spell just after the bell rang. He sat down and was counted out before he could recover. Lee Oma was the "victor" by a kayo.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
New York—Pete Mendel, 160, Grand Rapids, Mich., knocked out Joey DeJohn, 157, Syracuse, N. Y., 7.

Chicago—Freddie Dawson, 141, Chicago, outpointed Bobby Lee, 145½, Baltimore, 10.

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 26 (P)—The current champions in singles and doubles take their turns today at the American Bowling Congress tournament. If they can equal their scores of last year they'll move into the lead. The singles king is Lincoln Protich of Akron, O., who rolled 721.

However, Al York's Virginians will be very much a contender for top honors again this year with four of their six 1948 winners in the ring to defend their titles.

TEN YEARS AGO

Churches Join for Communion:
Protestant churches joined Friday in a union Communion service, the first of its kind held here in years,
as they marked the World's Day of Prayer. The union service opened at 7 o'clock in Christ Lutheran church.
All the Protestant pastor of the town participated in the service and in the administration of the sacraments during the Holy Communion that brought the worship
period to a close.

The evening meeting followed a joint session held Friday afternoon by the missionary societies of the local churches with representatives of each society taking part.

Scouts Given Merit Badges: Merit badges were awarded; advancements in rank were recognized and announcements of future activities were made at a Boy Scout court of honor held in the court house here Monday evening.

Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., chairman of the court, presided. He was assisted by Dean Wilbur E. Tilberg, Frederick R. Rowe, Prof. Lloyd
C. Keefe, Prof. Guile W. Lefever
and Ray F. Zander.

A feature of the evening, was a talk by Officer Joseph F. Bushey, of the criminal investigation division
of the Gettysburg substation of the state motor police.

John Saby, of Troop 80, received the Gold Palm award during the court session. . . . John is the first Scout in Gettysburg district to receive this recognition. His mother, Mrs. R. S. Saby, pinned the palm on him.

A Bronze Palm was received by Robert Fortenbaugh, also of troop 80.

Substitute Teacher: Miss Peggy Zinn, Broadway, is substituting on the Gettysburg high school faculty for Miss Louise Ramer, who is confined to her home on Baltimore street due to illness.

Attorney Improves: Richard A.
Brown, Esq., East Middle street, was reported to be somewhat improved Thursday at the West Side sanitarium in York, where he has been seriously ill.

Broom-Laughman: Miss Evelyn Mae Laughman, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Milton Laughman, Square Corner, and Ivan Bream, son of Mr.
and Mrs. Frank Bream, Gettysburg
R. 5, were united in marriage at Westminster Saturday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Hess Belt, associate pastor of Grace Lutheran church.

Says Italy Is Being Improved by Mussolini: Italy as a country which has been greatly improved internally by Benito Mussolini was described by Major James Sawders, noted lecturer and traveler, in an illustrated lecture Thursday morning in the Majestic theater before a large audience of Gettysburg college students.

According to Major Sawders, the Italians are a peace-loving people who have benefited greatly under Mussolini's rule.

In the opinion of the speaker
there will be no major war for at least five years. He branded as ridiculous the possibility of European powers attacking the United States.

Putman to Lead Child Welfare
In County: The Rev. Dwight F.
Putman was elected president of the Adams County Child Welfare organization at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the YWCA building, of about 30 public officials and representatives of Gettysburg and county
civic organizations.

Mrs. Spencer W. Aungst was named first vice president, Mrs.
John K. Lott is the second vice president, Mrs. A. W. Geigley is secretary, and J. D. Miller is the treasurer.

The group at Thursday's session included Judge W. C. Sheely, S.
Luther Baltzley, Miss Margaret Mc-Millan, Marjory C. Little and Colonel J. L. Barton.

Today's Talk

MR. AND MRS. LATE

One of the things that I was brought up on was punctuality. My father and mother were "sticklers"
on that, and I do not think that they failed in their teaching, for I make it a point always to "be there on time."

In business, punctuality is a virtue that one cannot afford to violate.
But in our everyday lives we have become well acquainted with "the late" Mr. or "the late" Mrs. Both are known to be guilty parties, as we all know. I know one very well—and that one lives in my own household! Perhaps you have one in your home, as well.

Is there anything more disturbing than to invite a number of guests for a certain hour in your home and be compelled to make changes in the program because of "the late" Mr.
or Mrs? Take the theatre, for another example. The curtain has risen. There is darkness in the place, and then Mrs. and Mr. Lates start crawling over you to get to their seats. Often just as the house roars at something that you could not get because of the confusion, the shut-off view—or perhaps a wounded toe!

I once knew a big business man who would not have anything to do with one who arrived to keep an appointment even one minute late.
Hamilton once arrived late at one of George Washington's cabinet meetings and blamed his watch.
Washington replied that Hamilton would have to get a new watch or he, Washington, would have to get a new Secretary!

The train that you take for a trip leaves on time. Mr. and Mrs. Late must be on it, or take a second one.
In radio, if you aren't there, you are off the air! Time is counted by seconds there. Every second has its price.

People who would be shocked if you accused them of stealing anything personal from you, think nothing of robbing you of your time, and then making a joke of it. The joke is on them, however, for often a job or a friend is lost by such a procedure.

BARGAIN LIFE

To know spring and summer well
And the glory of the fall,
Makes it worth man's while to dwell
On this old earth after all.

And to face and live them through—
All the stings of winter dear—
Is the payment that is due
For the purchase of a year.

Checking back, through good and ill,
Storm and days of sunny skies,
Life appears a bargain still;
With its cost in sacrifice.

Gettysburg Mill Uses Ton of Silk.
Rayon Daily: With the re-fitting of all its machinery with the most modern equipment nearly complete,
the Gettysburg Throwing company is handling silk and rayon at the rate of a ton per day with 170 persons on the weekly payroll which amounts to about $2,000.

Orders enough to keep the plant running at full speed for four weeks are on hand and the outlook for spring business is very good, Robert of Mr. and Mrs. Alva C. Pyles, Aspers, and Henry Eugene Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Riley, Gettysburg R. 3, was solemnized Monday morning at 9 o'clock at St.

Francis Xavier Catholic church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Raphael Gross. A nuptial mass followed the ceremony.
The attendants were Miss Anna
Marie Riley and Bernard R. Riley.
Mr. Riley is employed at the Reaser furniture factory.

Jersey City, N. J., Feb. 26 (AP)—
The Central Railroad of New Jersey announced Friday it has laid off a second group of maintenance employees. E. T. Moore, chief executive officer of the railroad, said a continued decline in freight traffic forced the line to lay off 378 more men, the company said it hopes to recall them by March 1.

New Low Lines of Dodge Coronet

The completely new and distinctive functional styling of the new Dodge Coronet presents a lower silhouette with graceful body and fender lines. Interior overall length, width, and height have been increased although exterior dimensions have been reduced. Front and rear seats have been moved forward to permit better cradling between the axles. The Dodge Coronet has a wheelbase of 123½ inches, 4 inches longer than previous models. It is on display at McCauslin Auto Sales, York street.

We may also change the load within the car after a switch in fuels, or road conditions may be changed.

Why Mileage Is Low

When oil mileage goes down it's smart not to jump to conclusions.
Believe it or not, in one such case
it was found that the rear axle gearing was too high. The engine labored a lot to give the car the sort of acceleration the owner demanded. This heated the oil, thinned it out, burned it off. Possibly the speedometer may be inaccurate. Driving faster than the meter shows would put the car in a higher bracket so far as oil consumption goes. Sometimes owners do not take into account the increase in oil capacity due to filters. Then there is always the matter of the way the car is driving and particularly the amount of idling. One owner was forced to fast idle the engine frequently in winter to keep the battery contented. That, of course, entailed use of more oil.

The way the car is driven also has much to do with the miles possible to obtain per quart of oil. Erratic drivers never get best results. The trick is to avoid sudden closing of the throttle. Where cars are used a lot in hilly country there is always loss of oil on downgrades where the pistons are sucking oil from the crank case.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. There is a peculiar rumble in my car that seems to come from the rear end, yet inspection of the uni-versals, pinion and differential fail to show any cause of this. The exhaust system isn't involved for I still get the noise even with the motor switched off. Have you any suggestions? S.W.

A. You probably have an unevenly worn right front tire.

Q. My car seems to labor at speeds of 65 miles an hour. I understand that overdrive would correct

this. Where can I get an overdrive unit for this model? G.R.H.

A. No overdrive is available for this car as yet. It would not compensate for the lack of power which you notice.

Q. My car throws considerable oil from the exhaust pipe when the engine is accelerated. It has been suggested to me that the above condition may be caused more by carbon clogging the rings and oil return holes in the pistons than by excessively worn rings. G.R.A.

A. This I must see. It is my belief that what appears to be oil at the exhaust is merely water from condensation, colored by carbon.

Q. The new motor in my 1935 car is giving me very poor gas mileage.
Any ideas as to how to boost this?
F.L.B.

A. Check for late ignition timing, late valve timing and too high carburetor float level. You may also find that the valve tappets do not have sufficient clearance.

Q. I can't seem to get more than 1,500 miles on a set of spark plugs.
Have tried different heat types and different makes. Same results. This

E.W.Jr.

A. There's a possibility that you overtighten the plugs. This warps the shells and causes the gaps to change after the plugs are put into the engine.

Q. Is there any kind of paint that can be used on a convertible top either as a repellent or to make it look better, or both? J.M.M.

A. The manufacturers recommend no dressing for this purpose. However, you can buy a plastic top to cover the material.

Q. The engine of my car misses badly. Spark plugs are practically new and high tension cables have been replaced. Breaker points are also new. Don't notice the missing at higher speeds, but it's bad at low speeds and often during idling. L.U.

A. Your report on this condition is well done, but I notice that you do not mention the valves. I think you have one or two sticky ones. Try some valve oil in with the crankcase lube.

Q. What is the objection to over-filling the crankcase? T.W.R.

A. The oil may be whipped, causing foam and possible bearing failure.

Death of Bright Angel

By ARCHIE JOSCELYN

Chapter 14

"Here," Maria breathed. "Bashan likes to go into town at times. He bends these bars apart — then back again. Perhaps they have been weakened somewhat."

Rivers could see where two rods did show signs of having been bent. He marveled anew at the strength in the man's hands, that he had first managed it at all. But if Bashan had done it before—

He pushed, exerting all his strength. Slowly it gave. He stopped, panting, then reached for the opposite bar. Once they were bent, there would be room to squeeze between. There was an opening now. Maria slipped through, and Rivers followed.

"I will go to friends," she said. "I'll be all right."

Rivers hoped that was so. Then, as they neared the sleeping town, he became aware that he walked alone, that she had slipped away silently. His thoughts were gloomy, even as he realized that he was uncertain of his whereabouts, of this part of the sprawling town. Even of what lay ahead.

His footsteps echoed hollowly on the planking of a small bridge, and somewhere a dog howled, then was silent. A silence abruptly blasted by the report of a pistol.

The lead whizzed by his shirt sleeve, and the shadows ahead stirred to a double gleam of light, reflected from the barrels of pistols, and Rivers knew that a second weapon was being raised and leveled.

Before the second gun could spill its deadly cargo he was plunging over the side of the bridge railing and down — a fall of twenty feet or so. To where the waters ran sullen and deep.

They closed over him, while he wondered who could have fired that shot. Certainly not the Montforts — not yet. Yet who else?

Cautiously Rivers broke water, poking his nose out. If he could make his assailant believe that the bullet had been fatal in its effect —

The shadow of the bridge lay heavy across the water, and he rested a hand on a log abutment and waited. Up above a footfall sounded, then a quicker step hurrying. This newcomer was apparently an officer, a policeman or soldier-sentry.

"What was the shot?" he demanded in French. "I heard one!"

The voice which answered was that of Martinez — captain of the "Lovely Maria."

"It was a mad dog," he explained. "I was on the bridge when it confronted me suddenly, a froth about the mouth. A savage beast, I assure you. I lost no time in shooting it. Then I flung it over the side."

Martinez! That made it understandable. Martinez was late aboard tonight, and had seen him and recognized him. Martinez hated him. And Martinez served Don Fernando.

They had not expected him to return from the Montforts. Alive, he was in the way. This had seemed to Martinez a perfect opportunity for disposing of him.

The officer accepted the explanation readily and presently departed. Martinez became active. Rivers could hear his steps above, then see him outlined as he peered down, watching, listening. Breath in check, Rivers waited.

Satisfied, Martinez presently turned and was gone. The banks were steep, the water deep. Deep and cold. Rivers swam to where the bank shelved, the branches of a tree hanging low gave him a hand-hold. He climbed out, shaking with cold as he stood on solid ground once more.

The moon was gone, the sheen of the distant river shut away. The streets, alive by day, seemed peculiarly dead by night. Then came the low murmur of voices, and about them there was something familiar. Once again it was the voice of Martinez.

Rivers advanced, keeping to the deeper shadows. Three or four men clustered under a tree. Sailors from the "Lovely Maria."

"It is a piece of work well done," Martinez was saying. "He will trouble us no more. I shot him — like a dog. Like the dog he was."

The others, as in duty bound, voiced admiration for their brave officer. Martinez chuckled.

"Never have I met one who was my better, unless it be our Don Fernando," he bragged. "But come. There is a new day ahead."

A nebulous plan was forming in Rivers' mind. Martinez was a rascal, but he was only a servant. And twice in one night was at least one time too many for such murderous double-dealing on the part of Don Fernando.

He came finally to Royal Street, and let himself in to his own rooms, pausing for a moment to look where, at this hour, Donna Dolores would be deep-sunk in slumber.

A plan was growing in his mind as he dressed and shaved. That done, he crossed to the door of Donna Dolores' suite and rapped softly. He repeated the summons, a little more loudly, then a third time with growing impatience.

Donna Dolores had assured him that she was a light sleeper, but nothing seemed to stir in the room beyond. Frowning, he tried the latch, and was surprised when the door opened readily. He stepped through, and by now a nameless fear was upon him.

Baby Decapitated By Rescue Boat

San Francisco, Feb. 26 (AP) — A desperate father lifted his three-year-old son out of San Francisco Bay barely enough to touch the hands of the child's mother on a fishing craft Thursday.

But she couldn't hold the small wet hands. The child, Martin Newell, slipped back into the bay. He was decapitated by the propeller of a Coast Guard craft coming to the rescue.

The father, Jack Newell, of nearby El Cerrito, had dived fully clothed into the bay after Martin when he slipped from the deck of the fishing boat. The Coast Guard vessel rescued Jack Newell.

Earle Brucker, Jr., Philadelphia A's' catching rookie, will continue his education during the off-season at San Diego State College.

LAUDS BUNCHE ON GRAND JOB IN PALESTINE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

If I were a ruling king, and United Nations Mediator Ralph Bunche were one of my subjects, I should call him before me and touch him on either shoulder with my sword in token of knighthood, saying:

"Well done! Rise—Sir Ralph!"

As a matter of fact, I think I'll confer a knighthood on him anyway. He has done a grand job in bringing about an armistice between warring Israel and Egypt.

That will open the way for peace talks between Israel and the other Arab countries with which she has been in conflict. As Bunche himself said to yesterday's signing: "Important history is being recorded here today. You have made a significant contribution to the cause of world peace."

Grandson Of A Slave

He said more, but it was couched in the same restrained language. Such restraint is rather typical of the 44-year-old international expert, who works big and talks moderately. However, while he doesn't bluster he is persuasive. He inspires confidence. He is a leader and a doer.

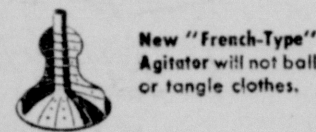

This grandson of an American slave has an outstanding record of achievement since youth. He was a Phi Beta Kappa student at the University of California, has a doctorate from Harvard, was a star athlete, has been a college professor, has written several books, and has served in notable positions for the United States government.

Bunche was assistant to Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator in Palestine, when the count was assassinated in Jerusalem last September. The American took over

New Oxford

New Oxford.—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Groff announce the birth of a daughter at the Hanover hospital on February 19. Mrs. Groff was formerly Miss Regina Moore.

Mrs. Minnie Boyce, who had been quite ill this winter, is now able to leave her home.

The Brownie and Intermediate groups of the local Girl Scout troop are conducting a bake sale this afternoon at the Methodist church rooms.

Mrs. Chester Gravatt, Wilder, Idaho, formerly of here, who has been spending the winter among relatives and friends in this area, has returned here after spending several days in McSherrystown. Mrs. Gravatt is the former organist at the Immaculate Conception Catholic church.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the local fire company met at the fire house on Wednesday evening for a regular session.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore, who have begun housekeeping in New Jersey, spent the week-end with local relatives.

New residents of this section will be Mr. and Mrs. Merle Crowl, former Hanoverians, who were married in that city on Saturday. The newlyweds have furnished a home on R. 2.

The Misses Mary Hensel and Dolores Noel, who were among students of the local Catholic parish to be graduated last spring from the Delone Catholic high school, McSherrystown, and who entered the Mercy Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore, in the late summer, completed their probationary period last week and received their caps and insignia of full student nurses.

Let us hope for such a happy conclusion—but keep our fingers crossed. That part of the world is likely to remain a tinder-box for a long time. And what of the future for the new Israel? Predictions are dangerous but this column is going to make one. As I read the signs, Israel is heading for a dominant position in the affairs of the strategic Middle East.

We likely are witnessing the beginning of another important power.

UNEMPLOYMENT FIGURES DIFFER

Pittsburgh, Feb. 25 (AP)—Is there marked unemployment in Pennsylvania's coal fields? State Secretary of Mines Richard Maize and some union leaders say yes. Coal operator spokesmen deny it.

The debate was touched off when Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.) told a Senate Finance committee in Washington, "More than 300,000 miners are unemployed at least part time. Some are working one day a week, some two or three and some are completely unemployed."

The United Mine Workers Union lists a total membership of 475,000. Secretary Harry A. Sutter of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association said Martin's statement didn't apply to members of his group. He said half the area's soft coal production comes from steel-company owned "captive" mines. Their entire output is used in steelmaking. Those mines are working a six-day week.

John Busarello, president of UMW

District 5 embracing the Pittsburgh district, said 3,000 area miners have been idle since October. "That's the most we've had out since 1943," he said. "Most of them work in strip mines and small mines. A major portion of these mines have shut down."

DIXIE SENATORS MAP FILIBUSTER ON RULES BILL

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—Southern senators mapped a maneuver today to virtually paralyze Senate activities during their expected filibuster against a change in the rules of debate.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) said today the Dixie group will halt committee meetings while the Senate is in session. That would throw a heavy block on some top administration bills.

Normally, senators are busy working on bills in committees while the Senate meets. But this can be done only by unanimous consent of the members.

Would Slow Committees
"We will insist," Russell told reporters, "that the members remain on the floor to hear our arguments against a rules change."

Most of President Truman's legislative program is now in the committee stage. If the southerners go through with their plan, the committees would have only the morning and evening hours left for their work.

Russell said Senator George (D-Ga.), a veteran of 26 years in the Senate, will lead off the debate when a motion is made to bring up an anti-filibuster resolution.

Chief Weapon At Stake
This resolution, due for action Monday, would permit the Senate to gag debate at any time by a two-thirds vote of the members. That would threaten the southerners with the loss of their main anti-civil rights weapon: the filibuster.

After George has concluded his arguments, Senator Connally (D-Texas) will take up the Dixie banner. Connally has 20 years in the Senate.

Senator Lucas (D-Ind.), majority floor leader, said a cloture petition to gag the debate probably will be filed Thursday.

This would mean that Vice President Barkley would have to rule whether cloture can be invoked on debate on a motion.

CRASH BROKE ENGAGEMENT; TEACHER SUES

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—A school teacher contends her boyfriend gave her the gas because of injuries suffered in an automobile collision — and so wants $10,330 damages.

Iris A. Coffman of Hagerstown, Md., filed suit in federal district court here yesterday against Harold B. Diehl of Porter Township, Pa.

Miss Coffman says her fiancé — unnamed — refused to marry her because of the accident.

That, Miss Coffman said in her suit, resulted in "gross injury to my sensibility and feelings."

Additionally, she claims permanent loss of the use of her lower jaw, broken in the crash.

Miss Coffman was a passenger in an auto that collided with a car operated by Diehl. She charges that Diehl was negligent, careless and operated his vehicle in an unlawful manner.

SET HEARING DATE

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—April 6 is fixed as hearing date of a request by Waynesboro (Pa.) Gas company for service from the Manufacturers Light and Heat company, Pittsburgh. The action by the federal power commission yesterday permits Waynesboro gas to reenter a case from which it withdrew last December.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26 (AP)—W. D. Gillen was named Thursday to succeed Francis J. Chesterman as president of the Bell Telephone company of Pennsylvania.

Chesterman, who has been head of the company since November 1, 1947, presented his resignation to the board of directors after 44 years in the telephone industry.

1400 Pound Cow Jumps Into Silo Through Door 17 By 25 Inches

A 1,400-pound purebred Hereford cow that got into a concrete silo through the small door she peers through, seems content in her circular prison. But owner Bill Mach, in Yukon, Okla., is not content as he looks at her and wonders how she got in and how to get her out.

Yukon, Okla., Feb. 26 (AP)—Hi diddle diddle, the cat and the fiddle, the cow jumped into the silo.

And Bill Mach ain't laughin'. He's gotta get her out.

But how is he going to do it?

It was a black day Tuesday at the Mach ranch south of here. The cow — a 1,400-pound pure bred Hereford worth $1,000 — was sick. The vet came and treated her. When it was all over they untied bossy and let her go.

She went—for Mach.

Mach is no matador but he jumps fast. The cow's horn ripped his shirt pocket as she thundered by.

When Mach opened his eyes—no cow.

Jumps Into Silo

"I looked at the hired man and I looked at the doc," said Mach. "They were standing with their mouths open."

Mach's jaw dropped too when they showed him.

The cow had jumped through a tiny feed door into the silo. It measured just 17 by 25 1/2 inches. That's roughly the size of a newspaper page.

And you know what a cow is.

There could be no doubt. There was the cow in the concrete silo. There were a few red hairs on the door sill. Yet there wasn't a bruise on bossy, said the vet.

Since then Mach has been tearing his hair.

He can't leave her in—she's gaining weight.

He can't get her out—she's too big already.

He can't push her—she'd jam tight.

He can't pull her—she'd come apart.

He can't butcher her—she's worth too much money as breeding stock.

It's up to Bill

And he can't tear the 40-foot silo down—it's worth more.

He can't even rip the door out—it's steel anchored in concrete blocks and might collapse the whole silo on top of the cow.

Someone suggested an Oklahoma oil derrick to hoist her out. When Mach heard the cost of that he couldn't even tear his hair.

As for the cow, she appears to be quite content in her 16-foot circular prison. Every so often she comes to the little door and looks out, chewing her cud.

It's nice in here, she seems to say.

I'll leave it up to Bill.

FREE GIRL, 18, ON CHARGE OF SLAYING AUNT

Pittsburgh, Feb. 26 (AP)—Deloris Waldo, 18-year-old Pittsburgh girl, faced the future with a smile today — she was free of a charge of murder in the death of Mrs. Gertrude Norris, her 61-year-old great-aunt.

An Allegheny county criminal court jury, which listened to 19 days of testimony, needed only two hours to bring in a verdict of acquittal yesterday.

Deloris, who had been in custody since the death last May 29 of Mrs. Norris, ran to the jury box after the verdict, leaned over the railing and cried: "Thank you, ladies and ing opened with songs. Barbara Bates gave a talk on Juliette Low and money for the Juliette Low Fund was collected. Work on Second Class Health and Safety activity was completed and plans for a party in March to celebrate the Girl Scout Birthday were discussed.

Intermediate Troop 11 held its meeting at St. James Lutheran church. The meeting was opened by Patrol 4. This was in the form of a resume of Juliette Low's life and centered around Thinking Day. This was followed by a talk by the leader about Scouts and Guides in other lands, and their hardships during the war. "Song Without Words" was learned. This song was brought back from the Chalet in Switzerland, by the United States delegates. Plans were discussed for a hike on March 12.

LITTLETOWN

Intermediate Troop 14 met at the Fire House. The meeting was called to order by the President, Barbara Matter. After a discussion it was decided to sell Scout cookies. The girls are learning to make crepe-pastry sweet peas. The meeting closed with refreshments.

YORK SPRINGS

The meeting of Senior Troop 21 was called to order by Patsy Fair, President. A delegate and alternate were elected to attend the Section 7 Senior Conference to be held in Harrisburg May 7. They are Carol Koons and Nadine Reinecker. Nadine Reinecker was appointed publicity director.

For the Girl Scouts of Adams county, as for all the other Girl Guides and Girl Scouts in 31 countries around the world, February is International Month. "Learning to understand and make friends with the girls of other lands is one of our most important year-round activities," Miss Marian Tupper, executive director, said today, "and this month's troop programs are especially concentrated on international friendship."

CASHTOWN

Brownie Troop 22 met at the fire hall, Tuesday. The meeting was opened by Mary Alice Johns. A playlet was presented concerning the life of George Washington. Plans were made for selling Girl Scout cookies.

The joint Troop Committee met Monday. Several money-raising projects for the troops were discussed. Plans are being made to form a Senior troop.

GETTYSBURG

Brownie Troop 25 of St. Francis Xavier church met Wednesday afternoon. Officers were elected. There are 27 girls in the troop and they are divided into patrols according to ages.

Officers for the Canary Patrol are: President, Wilhelmina Knox; Vice President, Barbara Bushey; Treasurer, Margaret Redding; Secretary, Nancy Baker. For the Bluebird Patrol: President, Jean Ann Griest; Vice President, Donna Schriver; Secretary, Marilyn Culp; Treasurer, Martha Jane McDermitt. The Fly-Up Patrol: President, Patricia Sanders; Vice President, Corine Schuchart; Secretary, Ann Yingling; Treasurer, Mary Jane Holtzworth. Every eight weeks Patrol officers are elected. For the March project the girls are packing a clothing kit.

Intermedate Troop 8 met at Christ Lutheran church. The meet-gentlemen of the jury, thank you."

Margiotti's Client

The defendant, believed to be the youngest girl ever tried on a murder count in Allegheny county, was charged with hitting Mrs. Norris on the head last May with a flower pot. Then, the state charged, she set her aunt's clothes on fire.

Deloris categorically denied setting the clothes on fire. She testified she hurled the flower pot in self defense at the climax of a quarrel over late hours and boy friends.

Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, prominent attorney who defended Deloris, wasn't on hand when the verdict came in. He was in St. Francis hospital, recovering from a mild heart attack suffered Thursday just as he was about to make his final pleas to the jury. His partner, Vincent Casey, made the address.

Future Uncertain

Soon after the trial's end, Deloris — still a ward of the juvenile court — went to the hospital to visit Margiotti. She was in his room nearly 10 minutes.

Deloris' future remained uncertain. She's been in several foster homes and, because of her youth, remains a ward of the juvenile court. Attorney Casey said he planned to confer with the court within a few days "about her future plans."

After the acquittal verdict was announced, Judge Sara M. Soffel told Deloris: "You are going to start now to build a new life. Make it a life of purpose, of service to your fellow men you'll need the help of friends and of counsel. This court stands ready to help you at any time."

Orrtanna

Orrtanna—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bigham and Howard Jumper spent Sunday with relatives at Newville.

Mrs. Maxwell Diekey of Clear Spring, Md., visited recently with her parents, Mr. and C. U. Spence.

Mrs. John Hostetter and daughters, Carol and Betty, returned to Flushing, New York, after a week's stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Micklev. Mr. Micklev, who accompanied his daughter and grandchildren to New York for a three-day visit with the Hostettlers, has returned home.

Dorsey Lochbaum and Raymond Lochbaum spent Wednesday in Harrisburg. They were accompanied by Miss Amanda Lochbaum to Idaville where she spent the day with her niece, Mrs. Willard Weaver.

Mrs. Charles Pryor and children, Lorna and Scott, of Chambersburg, spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Donaldson.

Natural Safeguards Against A-bomb Cited

Titusville, Pa., Feb. 26 (AP)—Western Pennsylvania — seeking to attract new industries — offers natural protection against possible atomic bomb attacks, says Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie.

Dr. Hess made the statement during the course of an address last night to 50 members of the recently formed Northwestern Pennsylvania Council for Industrial and Area Development.

The council, headed by Lewis B. Round of New Castle, is acting as a clearing house and augmenting Chamber of Commerce activities in helping develop new industries in the 16-county Northwestern Pennsylvania area.

Dr. Hess said the mountainous areas of the section offer natural protection against atomic bomb and other attacks. He said another "selling point" is the fact that climatic conditions are exceptionally healthful.

York Springs

York Springs.—The Women's Auxiliary of the local fire company met on Tuesday evening at the Community fire hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Jan Swan and son, Hans Gordon, who had been visiting her father, Amos Shearer, and other local relatives and friends, have left to return to Pearl Harbor where Mr. Swan, a former resident of Denmark, has been doing government work. Mrs. Swan is the former Miss Lola Shearer.

The Glee club of the local high school combined on Sunday evening with the boys' trio of the Bendersville Lutheran church to give a musical program as a part of the evening service at the local Church of God of which the Rev. Donald G. Roemer is pastor.

There oughta be a law!

When you pick up a copy of a newspaper you restate your belief in fair play. You express your willingness to let the other fellow get a hearing for his opinion. For opinion is as much a part of the newspaper as fact. Not just the editor's opinion but the opinions of business men and labor leaders, farmers and housewives, public officials and candidates for office—everyone whose opinions make news.

Some men and women think you should not have this freedom. They believe you should read only one set of opinions—theirs. They think there should be a law limiting what a newspaper can print.

Those whose freedom these self-constituted leaders are aiming to limit are not so much the editors and publishers of newspapers as the readers. They claim that newspapers have too much freedom but what they mean is that you are too free. They don't talk about thought control but that is what they have in mind. They don't trust you with the knowledge of what is going on in the world—even what is happening in your own government.

They know that if they can control what you read, they can control what you know. And when they control what you know, they can control your mind. Under the claim of knowing what is good for you, they want to take over your thinking. Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin used the same technique.

Of course, the newspaper isn't your only source of information. But if the attack on the newspaper is successful, you can be sure that the magazines and books and the radio won't be overlooked. The newspaper happens to be the first target because it is the main source of your information regarding the events and trends about which these men and women want to keep you in ignorance. Once the newspaper is muzzled, the others will be easy.

If you think your right to know isn't in danger, take the time to read the proposals that are being offered. Apply these recommended press regulations to this newspaper and to the other publications you read including the ones published by your lodge or union or church.

You may agree that you should get less information than you now get and that some super-commission should decide what you should read. But if you don't agree—if you want to protect your right and that of the members of your lodge and union and church to read freely—you will not be taken in by the high sounding resolutions and other adroit devices now being used as the first step towards control. You will refuse to give them your support. You will speak out against them and against those who ask you to help put public knowledge and public opinion in chains.

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties short time, and they, as well as the business people of the town who had in line very commendable representations and appropriate advertisements of their various businesses, deserve credit. Indeed, many of them were worthy of special mention for the exquisite taste used in their preparation, but space will not permit us to give a detailed account.

"Darktown Fire Brigade"

"The comical part of the parade was the 'Darktown Fire Brigade' with Chas. B. Tate, mounted on an old mule, as marshal. This part of the procession brought forth much laughter and applause. Its makeup was good, and Mr. Tate's ability as a comedian and mimic considerably strengthened the funny part of the parade. Representatives of the City Fathers in carriages was also a comical part of the parade.

"The first division was made up as follows: Marshal, Dr. Henry Stewart, policemen Shellenham and Haines, G. A. (Grand Army) band, members of fire company drawing reel No. 1, hook and ladder wagon, fire engine. Second division was led by the Boys Drum Corps and was the industrial part, made up of the business people. The third division was the Darktown Brigade led by Marshal C. B. Tate and the music was furnished by the colored band led by Richard Thomas.

Urges Annual Affair

"We heartily congratulate the instigators of the move and also the business people for taking part. It shows energy, puts life in business affairs and stimulates the public generally. Let the precedent established on Thursday grow, and as each successive Thanksgiving Day returns let our people repeat the parade to a larger and greater extent and thus break the monotonous quietness that has characterized Thanksgiving Day in Gettysburg for years gone by."

The Star and Sentinel of November 27 adds the information that J. Harry Holtzworth was to be the marshal of the second division for the parade formed on Washington street, (north) and its route was: Washington to Lincoln to Carlisle to Chambersburg street to West, to High to Washington (south) to Baltimore to East Middle to York to Center square to the engine house.

press of the Pitman Publishing Corporation, is the result.

Make Craft Objects

The book treats with the handling of native products to make practical craft objects for use or sale: Belts, pouches, fishing hampers, trays, book-ends, scrap baskets, sandals, flower stands, bird houses, and other objects. The book is planned for home study without the aid of a teacher.

Mr. Benson, former national director of Rural Scouting, is nationally known as a lecturer, organizer and author of several books, best known being "Agriculture." He was formerly national director of 4-H club work and Junior Extension, and helped in the organization of these programs in Washington under the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mrs. Gallinger has taught and written on craft subjects for 25 years and has published over 300 magazine articles and five books on crafts. Her next book, "The Joy of Handweaving," to be published by the International Textbook company will be off the press in the spring. It is planned as a weaving textbook for school and weaving Guilds.

Mr. Benson has presented an author's copy of the new book to the Adams County library and Mrs. Gallinger is presenting a copy to the Bookmobile.

Highlights On Making Income Tax Returns

NO. 5—ABC IN FILLING OUT THE SHORT-FORM

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth of 12 stories on who has to do what about making his 1948 income tax return for the deadline is March 15.)

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Feb. 26 (AP)—This is an ABC on filling out your 1948 income tax return on the 1040 short-form.

Like anyone else with income under $5,000, Jones can use the short-form. His income was $4,800. His wife had none. They have a dependent child.

But his first problem is: Should he file alone, separately, since his wife had no income and doesn't have to file? Or jointly. He knows:

1. When a husband has income, but not the wife, he can file by himself and get an exemption for himself, his wife, and any dependent. But—note this: under the new law many husbands and wives—although not all—save money by filing jointly, even though the wife had no income. Why? Because the new law permits "splitting" income, as if husband and wife were claiming half the total income.

Facts On Exemptions

2. NO exemption can be claimed for a wife who had income, no matter how tiny, unless she files jointly with her husband, or separately. (Remember: A wife is not classified as a dependent. You can still claim as a dependent a person with income, so long as it's not $500 or more, and get an exemption for him.)

If the wife with income files separately, she claims her own exemption, and the husband, filing his own return separately, claims his own exemption. And the one who provided more than half the support of a dependent, like a child, claims an exemption for him.

If husband and wife file jointly—when both have income—they get their two exemptions, plus one exemption for each dependent.

3. When husband and wife have income which is individually less than $5,000 but combined is more than $5,000, they can file separately on the short-form, but not jointly. Or, they can file separately or jointly on the 1040 long-form.

Example Cited

Since Jones had income but his wife didn't, he comes under No. 1 above. So, to find out whether he saves by filing separately or jointly, he turns to the tax table on page 4. He looks at the columns which show the tax on a person whose income was $4,800 and wants to claim three exemptions, as Jones does. They show the tax, in a case like that, when a return is made separately or jointly.

In Jones' case: The tax is $437, if he files alone. It's only $422, a saving of $15, if he files jointly with his wife. So he'll do that. Now return to Page One. Start down, answering the questions at the top. Then—

Extra Exemption

No. 1. Jones lists himself, his wife, his dependent child. He answers "No" to the questions about blindness and age, since neither he nor his wife is 65 or blind.

(There's an extra exemption for blind taxpayer and another for his wife, if she's blind; and another extra exemption for him if he's over 65, and another extra one for his wife if she's over 65. Example: If both were blind and over 65, each would have three exemptions. But—there's no extra exemption for a dependent who's blind or over 65.)

Now Jones comes to No. 2. He writes his employer's name, and place of business. Right beside it he lists his salary, $4,800, which was his entire income. And, beside that, he lists—say, for illustration—$460 which his boss withheld from him in taxes during the year.

Completes Form

He skips the next questions which don't apply to him, or fills in those that do, and makes it clear at No. 10 that he had already overpaid his tax by $38. The difference between the $460 his boss withheld from him and the $422 the tax table shows his tax should be.

And under No. 10, since he wants a refund, he checks off the refund box.

Then he answers the rest of the questions and he and his wife both sign the return. Unless husband and wife both sign a joint return, the collector will consider it a separate return, which may mean a higher tax for the couple.

Then Jones tears off that first page of Form 1040 and sends it into the tax collector for his district but, before he does, he does this:

He attaches to it the Form W-2, the withholding receipt his boss gave him for the tax withheld from his salary during the year.

But what of deductions for things like charity and so on? Jones didn't have to bother about them. His didn't amount to 10 per cent of his income. And the tax table he uses allows for a 10 per cent deduction for everyone.

But—if yours are more than 10 per cent of your income, you'll lose money filing on the 1040 Short-Form. Use the 1040 Long-Form. There you'll have to itemize them but you can claim them in full.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 26 (AP)—Two car dealers in Ohio today joined the nationwide trend in dipping prices by advertising unusual bargains. A Columbus DeSoto dealer ran a four-column newspaper advertisement announcing sale of 29 brand new automobiles for immediate delivery. "Trade-ins are not necessary, but if you have a car to trade we will be most liberal," the advertisement read.

At Toledo, a used car dealer offered a penny sale in conjunction with six automobiles. "Buy one and get another for one cent," the dealer advertised.

pleasantness.

It wasn't surprising to learn that the Woman's Club of Gettysburg had voted unanimously its opposition to the proposed compulsory health insurance bill now before Congress.

So much opposition is being engendered against this measure from sources other than medical associations that many of the former proponents of the bill are fearful that Congress will defeat it.

The local club voiced its opposition at its February meeting. Mrs. Rasmus S. Baby, chairman of the Legislative Department of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of the local organization's international relations committee, presented the subject to the local club. A motion from the floor was immediately seconded and all those present expressed approval.

Senators Myers and Martin and Congressman James P. Lind were advised of the action of the club. Myers wired that he

Hacks Wife To Death, Stabs Self Fatally

Philadelphia, Feb. 26 (AP)—After hacking his 37-year-old wife to death, a South Philadelphia leather worker stabbed himself fatally. Detective Sgt. Charles Steinberg reported.

Steinberg said the dying man, Louis Bernstein, 40, charged two policemen with a knife when discovered in the cellar of his home Thursday. He was killed by a bullet in the forearm from one of the policemen's guns.

Bernstein died shortly afterwards from a self-inflicted knife wound in his throat, Steinberg said.

Steinberg said Bernstein apparently attacked his wife, Betty, 37, in the kitchen of their home. The Bernsteins' two children, Norman, 9, and Allen, 6, were en route home from school at the time.

meeting will be held Thurs., Mar. 31, at a place to be announced later, with the following program committee: Mrs. William Peeser, Mrs. George Plunkert and Mrs. George Crabbs.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Jansen, York, were dinner guests at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. David S. Kammerer on Friday.

Mrs. George McCoy, Washington, is spending the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Martin and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sheely, Littlestown R. 2.

William Kress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kress, Littlestown, has joined the United States Air Force and is stationed at Lockland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. His address is Pvt. William R. Kress, A. P. 13 314 173; 3704 Tng. Sqdn., Flight 4003, Lockland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Littlestown Boy Scout Troop No. 84 will meet at Banker's restaurant, South Queen street, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock from where they will be transported by the Littlestown Rotary and Lions clubs to the Y.M.C.A. at York, where they will enjoy swimming. They will return home at 8 p. m. Alton Bowers, scoutmaster, and Luther D. Snyder and Wilbur A. Bankert, troop committee members will accompany them.

Intramural basketball scores in the Littlestown Junior high school for the week are: Boys' games: 8A defeated 8C by a score of 12 to 9; 7B defeated 7C by a score of 17 to 15; Girls' game: 8A defeated 7C by a score of 18 to 2.

In addition to the events for the coming week on the high school calendar which were previously announced, there will be assembly movies on Wednesday at 1 p. m.

Mrs. Lloyd Spangler, along the Gettysburg pike, entertained the Ladies Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church at their monthly meeting on Thursday evening. Mrs. James Dutera was in charge of the devotions, which included a song service and a responsive reading.

Mrs. William Lippy offered the evening prayer. The following readings were presented: "My Valentine," Mrs. Elmo Jones; "Backward Look," Mrs. Dale Stary; "Whatever Is Best," Mrs. Raymond Rineham and "Washington," Mrs. William Lippy.

The birthdays of Mrs. James Dutera, Mrs. Sylvester Rickrode and Mrs. Frank Hollinger were noted. Business was in charge of the president, Mrs. Dallas Shriver and Mrs. Edwin Harget presented the secretary's report. There were 25 members and two visitors in attendance. It was decided to divide the members of the society into groups of four each until fall for the purpose of raising money for the organ and building fund. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Dallas Shriver, East King street, on Thursday, March 31, when the hostesses will be Mr. Shriver, Mrs. Katherine Hull and the Rev. Kenneth D. James. A guess package contributed by Mrs. Sylvester Rickrode was received by Mrs. Kenneth Miller and a package donated by Mrs. Lloyd Spangler was received by Mrs. Noah Streivig. A door prize was awarded to Mrs. Edwin Harget. A White Elephant party was then enjoyed when $14.35 was realized. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Lillie Shryock and Mrs. James Dutera.

We congratulate the Gettysburg Fire Company for its initial effort to properly and extensively commemorate the anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Independence Day.

The committee in charge have outlined a fine program that will extend over a period of a week to include the dates of July 1, 2, 3 and 4. Their plans are ambitious and deserve the support and cooperation of the citizenry of this community.

A camp of U. S. Army soldiers, display of modern equipment, jet planes and band concerts by a U. S. Ground Forces band will, if properly promoted and publicized, attract a large crowd of visitors here during that period. Go to it firemen, we'll do all we can.

Howard Armor is cherishing, among his many souvenirs and remembrances of his late father, William D. Armor, the official notification his father received from Good Samaritan Lodge No. 336, F. & A. M., dated May 11, 1900, which reads as follows:

"At the stated meeting of Good Samaritan Lodge held last evening, your petition for initiation and membership was unanimously approved. You can present yourself at the next stated meeting of the Lodge, Thursday evening, June 14th and receive the 1st degree. Very respectfully, Dan A. Skelly, Secretary."

Major General Charles W. Loughbry, Gettysburg college graduate, and chief United States Intelligence Officer in the Far East, whose office recently released the secret spy report out of Tokyo, has "waived any immunity I may possess to legal or any other action that may be taken or desired," in the following statement:

"The Sore spy report collating and evaluating certain judicial and other official records found in Japan at the start of the occupation was made under my sole direction and, as Chief of the Military Intelligence Section, I am responsible for its preparation and direct transmission to the Military Intelligence Division in Washington.

"I have no responsibility for its publication. It was a 'secret' document developed solely for military intelligence purposes and was not written or intended for public release. The decision to release it to the public was the sole responsibility of Washington authorities and was not favored at this headquarters. What agency actually instituted its release, I do not know, but no one here has any responsibility for such action.

"As a secret document of the intelligence service, the scope of its contents embraced all the information procurable here, with the comments and deductions therefrom, normal to a security investigative agency. This section would have failed in its duty had it done less. The report is an old one and its main features had been substantially carried in some sections of the press many months ago.

"I differ emphatically from those who belittle the documentation supporting the report. This documentation is voluminous and has not been published. While I decline absolutely to accept any responsibility for the public release of the report, I do accept fully any other responsibilities involved and very gladly waive any immunities I may possess to legal or any other action that may be taken or desired.

"I would, in fact, welcome, not only as an intelligence officer, but even more fundamentally as an American citizen, an opportunity thus to emphasize the lurking dangers which threaten American civilization in subversive systems, hiding behind and protected by free institutions."

842 fires occurred in Pennsylvania forests during 1948 burning 12,706 of the total 15,127,650 forested acres, public and privately owned. . . . When washing windows in cold weather add vinegar or ammonia to the water to prevent it from freezing on the glass. . . . Pennsylvania families received $137,801,000 in life insurance death benefit payments during 1948. . . . Four years ago this month, Marines of the Fifth Amphibious Corps, composed of the Third, Fourth and Fifth Marine Divisions, landed in waves of clock-like precision on a small pork-chop-shaped island of the Volcano group called Iwo Jima. . . . 41,519,000 motor vehicles in the United States consumed 31,857,000,000 gallons of gasoline during 1948. . . .

Speaking of speed, fire has been known to sweep through more than 200,000 acres in a day's time. It may appear early to remind you that centuries of nature's work in fashioning beautiful forest and stream grounds may be turned into a charred wasteland by one neglected spark in 24 hours, but the fact is that it is usually too late.

If you want to live in the kind of a town That's the kind of a town you like; You needn't slip your clothes in a grip And start on a long, long hike.

You'll find elsewhere what you left behind, For there's nothing that's really new, It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town; It isn't your town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid, Lest somebody else gets ahead, When everybody works and nobody shirks, You can raise a town from the dead.

And if while you make your stake, Your neighbor can make one, too, Your town will be what you want to see, It isn't your town—it's you.
